David Fihn

The hands and hearts of Rotarians have molded The Rotary Foundation into one of the world's great organizations for peace and good will among nations and peoples. Every year, many thousands of Rotarians give of their time, enthusiasm, expertise and material means to support the Foundation and ensure its continuing role in improving the quality of life. Each of them deserves recognition, but only a relative few are cited by the Rotary Foundation Trustees for truly outstanding service and achievements. Such Rotarians may receive one of two special recognitions:

The Rotary Foundation Citation for Meritorious Service

The vitality and success of The Rotary Foundation are dependent upon the work of individual Rotarians, thousands of whom each year make extraordinary contributions of time and effort. The Trustees annually recognize significant service by awarding the Rotary Foundation Citation for Meritorious Service to not more than one Rotarian in each district. Because the Foundation has other means of recognizing significant financial support, those providing only monetary gifts are not eligible for this award.

Although nominations for this award are usually made by the District Governor, a past Governor or a Rotary Club may also nominate an outstanding Rotarian with the concurrence of the Governor. To ensure that local Rotarians are honored, no current or incoming RI Director, Foundation Trustee or District Governor is eligible for this recognition.

The Rotary Foundation Distinguished Service Award

Service to the Foundation often extends beyond the district level or covers an extended period of time. Each Rotary year, the Trustees recognize, with a beautiful bronze plaque, up to 50 Rotarians internationally who have provided this broader support. As with the Citation for Meritorious Service, those who have contributed only financially are ineligible. Also, those receiving this recognition must previously have received the Citation for Meritorious Service more than two years prior to being nominated. As with the Citation current and incoming officers are ineligible.
